

Privacy Statement

This privacy statement discloses domains-domains.net's Privacy Policies

1. domains-domains.net (LYNTER srl) is the sole owner of all information collected on www.domains-domains.net
2. In order to use this website, users must firstly fill in a registration form or sign an order form or a service agreement. During registration or signing form and/or agreement, users are required to give their contact information (name, email address, phone number and address). Information collected on this site is used to register domain names, to provide hosting services, to manage DNS records, to notify the user of maintenance, billing, legal, service offerings, changes and other issues related and necessary to the maintenance of users' domain name(s) and other associate services. Please be aware that the domain names' registrations include publishing your private data via the whois protocol.
3. We will not sell, share or rent these information to any third party in any ways different from what is disclosed in this statement.
4. domains-domains.net may share aggregated demographic information with our partners and advertisers. This is not linked to any personal information that can identify any individual person. During the course of registering and maintaining domain names, providing hosting services, DNS records, the user's email address is indirectly shared with registrars and gateway providers who can see your email. This is an unavoidable consequence of using the Internet.

If we use a credit card processing company to bill users for our services or if you send us your payments via credit card or PayPal system, these companies do not retain, share, store or use personally identifiable information for any secondary purposes.

We may disclose user's personal information when in response to subpoenas, court orders, legal processes or to establish or exercise our legal rights or defend ourselves against any legal claims.

5. We use IP addresses to analyze trends or administer our site, to track user's movements and gather broad demographic information for aggregate use. IP addresses are also tracked to prevent credit card fraud.
6. domains-domains.net applies the utmost care to protect its users' information. When users submit sensitive information via the website, your information is protected both online and off-line.

When our registration/order form asks users to enter sensitive information (such as credit card number and/or your fiscal data (fiscal code, Vat number, etc), that information is optionally encrypted and is protected with the best encryption software in the industry - SSL.

We also do everything in our power to protect user-information off-line. All of our users' information, not just the sensitive information mentioned above, is restricted in our offices and kept in a secure environment.

7. If a user's personally identifiable information changes (such as zip code), or if a user no longer desires our service, we provide a way to correct, update or remove that user's personal data previously provided to us.

This can usually be done at the Account Info and User Options pages or in writing at your verified mail/fax/email request and upon our confirmation

If you feel that domains-domains.net (Lynter srl) is not abiding by its posted privacy policy, you should first contact our Privacy Group using privacy@domains-domains.net.
